What will happen if the Nursery/I have concerns about my child?

Key worker or parent/carer has a concern about their child's development.

Key worker, SENCO, Inclusion Manager and parent/carer will meet to talk about their concerns. A plan of support will be agreed and a review date will be set.

The nursery will monitor progress.

- Key worker, SENCO, inclusion Manager, parent/carer will meet to discuss your child's progress. Targets will be set depending on your child's specific area of need. An appropriate plan of support will be agreed and a review date will be set.
- Your child may need support from a specialised service or outside agency. This will be discussed with you and with your permission a referral will be made by the Inclusion Manager/SENCO.
- Your child may need additional adult support. The Inclusion Manager/SENCO will talk to you about this and ask your permission to apply for additional funding.

The nursery team will facilitate your child's plan and the advice given by outside agencies.

The Inclusion Manager/SENCO and the nursery team will monitor your child's progress and will meet with you regularly to discuss how your child is getting on and plan for future support.

After a period of intervention some children may need an Education Health Care Plan, this will be discussed with you and a Team Around the Child meeting will be arranged.

How does the nursery identify and assess Special Educational Needs?

We use a range of strategies that help us assess whether a child needs additional support, these include-

- Observations - Looking carefully to see how the child accesses activities and responds to other children and adults.
- Using school based assessments - Development Matters and Target Tracker
- Spending time with the child during their play and exploration and during focussed learning time.

We also draw on information from a range of sources, these include-

- Information from parents/carers
- Information from the child
- Information from previous childcare settings
- Talking to the child's key worker and other members of the nursery team
- Information/referrals from GP, paediatricians, health visitors or other medical personnel.
- Reports from the Child Development Centre.
- Reports from other outside agencies for example Speech and Language Therapy

Open and honest communication with Parents and Carers - How will I be involved?

- You will be invited to meet with the SENCO at least termly to review of your child's progress but informal discussions can happen at any point. If you have any concerns or want any advice, speak to your child's key worker or the SENCO. If for any reason she is not available you can make an appointment at the reception desk.
- You will be asked to contribute to your child's support plan and one page profile by sharing information about your child.
- The SENCO will communicate with you regularly to make sure you have all the information you need and that you understand how the nursery are supporting your child.
- You will always be informed if a representative from an outside agency will be observing your child.

How will my child's views be included in decisions about their education?

- At your child's home visit you will be asked to complete an 'All about me' booklet, this helps us to prepare the nursery for your child's first day.
- From your child's first day in nursery, building a positive relationship with them and getting to know their individual needs is our priority.
- Our Child-centred approach ensures that all children make choices about their learning and are involved in developing the day to day provision.
- Knowing your child well; their strengths and areas of difficulty, knowing what motivates them and how they learn best ensures our teaching is effective and has a positive impact on your child's outcomes.
- Your child's key worker will talk to them about their learning and what their next steps are.
- This in-depth knowledge underpins the targets and outcomes in you child's Early Years Support Plan, Individual Behaviour Plan or Play Plan.
- All children receiving additional support have a One Page Profile - This outlines each individuals needs, likes and dislikes and strategies to support learning. These are based on our in-depth knowledge of each child, which we gather from talking to the child, the people who know the child best and by carrying out regular observations.

How does the nursery provide appropriate teaching and learning for children with SEN/D?

- We follow the Early Years Foundation Stage Curriculum but learning opportunities are planned carefully to meet the needs of the individual children who attend Lillian de Lissa.
- We support all children through our child centred curriculum and differentiation.
- We ensure all children are included through thinking carefully about the environment, how children access it and the resources available.
- All children are offered a wide range of high quality learning opportunities and experiences, accessing all areas of the Early Years curriculum.
- The Inclusion Manager/SENCO works alongside the teaching assistants and teachers to facilitate effective and appropriate provision for each child. They will work together to accurately assess progress in order to plan future interventions.
- We provide a balance of child initiated play and focussed learning time. Children work in their key groups (13 children), small group sessions (4-6 children) and where required 1:1 sessions.
- Intervention groups are planned to support specific areas of need, these include:
 - Language and Communication - To support children's speech and language development
 - Nurture Groups - To support children's Social and emotional well being and development
 - Physical Development Groups - To support Fine and Gross Motor development
 - Sensory Groups - To support children with specific sensory needs
 - Language groups to support children who are learning English as an additional language.

How does the nursery support emotional and social development of children?

The personal, social and emotional development of all children is weaved into all aspects of the curriculum. Children are taught to respect and value others, they learn about empathy and compassion through teacher led group sessions, our continuing work on the rights of the child and during child initiated free flow play.

How does the nursery assess and review my child's progress?

- We follow the Early Year's Curriculum and assess all children against the Development Matters Age Bands. We assess how children are progressing by spending time with them whilst they play and explore, we ask questions, talk to the children about their learning and make observations.
- Every child is individual, the Developmental Matters document states that - "Children develop at their own rates, and in their own ways. The development statements and their order should not be taken as necessary steps for individual children. They should not be used as checklists. The age/stage bands overlap because these are not fixed age boundaries but suggest a typical range of development."
- We track all children's attainment and progress using a system called Target Tracker, we choose this system specifically because it helps us to show progress within age bands, ensuring every child's progress is identified and celebrated.
- The nursery team meet regularly to discuss how children are progressing and how they are learning, we reflect on what we can do to move their learning on.
- Children with SEN/D have individual targets set a least termly, the child's key worker, SEND support worker and teachers are all aware of each child's targets, they are always observing and recording any progress made towards these targets. These targets are reviewed by the Inclusion Manager/SENCO, the key worker/teacher, the parents/carers and any outside agencies who are involved. Together, we discuss next steps and set future targets.

How are staff trained to support my child's needs?

- At Lillian de Lissa Nursery School we are committed to supporting every child. To ensure we can do this effectively our team members attend a wide range of training and regularly seek advice from outside agencies and professionals in other settings.
- The training that the nursery team receive is based on the individual needs of the children who attend. The Inclusion Manager/SENCO, with the support of the Head Teacher and governors, ensures that training is up to date and is appropriate.
- Training about specific SEN/D and medical conditions is usually conducted during whole school meetings and INSET days, this has included Autism, Allergies, Epi-pen, Convulsions and Asthma.
- If a child has a diagnosis of a SEN/D or a medical condition and is enrolled to start at the Nursery, the Inclusion Manager/SENCO will arrange for specific training to be delivered by an external agency. These sessions have included Cerebral Palsy, Sensory Sensitivity, Vision Support, Epiderma Bulosa and Autism AET Level 1.

We want all children to be included in all areas of nursery life.

We do all we can to make sure that all children take part in educational visits, performances and celebrations but we understand that different children respond to changes in routine differently.

We prepare children for special events with photographs, stories and visual timetables.

A child may need additional adult support or may prefer to access an alternative learning environment.

We carry out risk assessments for all educational visits and may need to organise for additional adults to support these visits.

How do the Governing Body ensure that children with SEN/D and their families are supported well by the Nursery?

The Governor with responsibility for SEN/D is Lorna Rose. She carries out observations in the Nursery to see how children with SEN/D learn and play.

The SENCO/Inclusion Manager reports to the Governing Body regarding the progress and attainment of all children at least termly. This includes specific information about the children with SEN/D.

Our SEN/D Governor meets formally with the Inclusion Manager/SENCO yearly to conduct a review of SEN/D provision, to discuss the progress children have made and the support that has been provided. The Governor then reports her findings to the Local Governing Board.

How does the school evaluate the provision for children with SEN/D?

The senior management team monitor all children's progress and attainment at regular periods throughout the academic year. The SENCO focusses specifically on how the children with SEN/D have achieved. This information is used to analyse the provision in place and discuss what has worked well and how we can improve outcomes further.

The senior management team carry out observations of all staff throughout the year, which include how children with SEN/D are being taught and how they are using and accessing the learning environment.

We listen to parents and children; through informal conversations, review meetings and questionnaires we find out how parents and children feel about the provision.

What should I do if I am unhappy with the support my child is receiving?

If you have any concerns about the support your child is receiving please speak to the SENCO or the Head Teacher, we will listen to your concerns and do all we can to resolve any issues.

The School and our Governing Body take complaints seriously, they are acted upon on an individual basis.

Please see our complaints procedure for further information,
